The Ideal Candidate

The Riverside Medical Group is actively recruiting a new Urologist to join our existing employed group. The ideal candidate is an ambitious, professional, and friendly individual with a strong desire to provide high-quality, compassionate patient care. Must be BE/BC. Previous experience and expertise is welcomed, but not required.

The Practice

Riverside's Urology Specialists practice is comprised of one board-certified physician. Dr. Gambla is an expert in urology with several years of experience. He sees patients at Riverside Urology Specialists and sees patients with a wide range of conditions, but specializes in female urology, voiding dysfunction or incontinence and BPH (benign prostatic hyperplasia). A new physician would assist patients in the clinic, perform surgery, do inpatient rounding, and help develop our urological service line even further.

The Organization

With consistent leadership, financial stability and a continued growth strategy in place, Riverside Medical Center has earned national recognition. At Riverside, candidates can expect to find a busy practice with an established patient base, state-of-the-art facilities and equipment, great mentorship from Dr. Gambla, financial stability and great success!
